

Richman Chemical Inc.: A Conduit to Custom Chemical Resources, Synthesis and Raw Materials for Start Up Life Science Companies

RCI has partnered with companies looking for small molecule custom synthesis as they work through all phases of clinical trials and pilot scale-up. Since the services RCI offers are essential to the survival of a start-up company, we are getting the word out by placing ads like the one below in incubator-sponsored newsletters focusing on the Biotech Industry. In addition, Richman is active in organizations such as the Eastern Technology Council and Regional Biotech Council and is a member of organizations that support drug/device start-up companies both on a local and national level.

Richman Chemical service offerings include: R&D, process development, full project management, custom synthesis, pilot scale-up, and commercial manufacturing. We also offer complete pharmaceutical cGMP-compliant services on all scales.
